VINGT PARIS

VINGT Paris Private Office assists high-net-worth individuals with tailored real estate services in Paris and Monaco. The real estate firm has reported a 30% increase in international interest ahead of the summer Olympics.

Overseas enquiries have doubled year-on-year, coinciding with Paris hosting the games. This reflects a broader trend across France, with foreign buyers rising from 2% to 4% of total buyers in the past year. While the main Olympic venues are in St Denis, prime properties along the Seine are in high demand for their proximity to key events. CEO Susie Hollands notes heightened interest from seasoned investors, with properties over €7 million mainly sold off-market.
